Cap's 15th birthday bash to be a rave for young and old

TO celebrate its 15th birthday, the Community Arts Project (Cap) is inviting the public to all-day activities on Saturday, April 25, at 106 Chapel Street, Woodstock.

The day will start at 10am, with fun activities such as mask-making and cake-decorating for children, while adults can browse through the craft stalls, view work by Cap students, and watch the students work on lino prints and wood sculptures.

Cap's children's drama group will perform at 10.30am and a magic show by Stewart Sims-Handcock is scheduled for 11am. Food and refreshments will be available.

Cap trustee Mr Bulelani Ngcuka will deliver a speech followed by a tree-planting ceremony. Musicians from Music Action for People's Progress (Mapp), Patti Henderson and gum-boot dancers will entertain the public.

To publicise the event and as a fund-raiser, artists have been invited to make 'cakes as artworks' which will be auctioned.

Thirty artists have already agreed to participate, among them: Jane Alexander, Hamilton Budaza, Peter Clarke, Lionel Davis, Terry Kurgan, Tracy Payne, Mario Pissarra, Kim Siebert, Stacy Stent, Cameron Voyiya, Nick Vergunst, Gavin Younge and Randy Hartzenberg.

Prizes in the form of cake-platters by Tina van der Walt and Lovell Friedman will be awarded. Lionel Davis will be the auctioneer. The event starts at 1 pm.

Cap welcomes any birthday present in the form of art, material or cash. KAREN WILLIAMS
