sculptor to study in Italy

BONGANI PETER SHANGE, a former resident sculptor and lecturer at the Community Arts Project in Mowbray, leaves today for Perugia, Italy, where he will take up a scholarship from the Italian government to study sculpture.

For many years he has explored several mediums — painting and graphics as well as sculpture. He had a successful exhibition at Gallery 709 last year.

Before joining the Arts Project, Shange worked at Mariannahill Studio in Durban.

He went to Rorke's Drift where he obtained a diploma in sculpture four years ago.

Two other South Africans will also attend courses in Italy. They are Mr Timothy Tukani and Miss Madelon Tusenius. They will leave later this year.
